

The Keio Plaza Hotel's Art Walk

Art is never far and always available to delight you throughout the Keio Plaza Hotel Tokyo. Here are some hotel spots we recommend:

Outside of the All Day Dining Jurin on the 2nd floor is a garden and wooded area crafted by Koki Fukaya, a distinguished outdoor space designer reveal.

From inside Cocktail & Tea Lounge on the 3rd floor, enjoy fine views of the Toh no Niwa ("Garden of Ceramics") designed by ceramic artist Yusuke Aida.

In the lobby gallery on the 3rd floor, you will find masterpieces by contemporary artists.

Main Bar Brilliant on the 2nd floor is full of wonderful works by Riki Watanabe, a renowned designer.

At the Skybar Polestar on the 45th floor, you can enjoy breathtakingly beautiful night view and the gorgeous interior made by world-famous interior designer, Isamu Kenmochi.

Things to do

Just a single bus ride from Shinjuku takes you to Hakone, a hot tourism spot rich in art

Hakone has long been a popular destination for travelers. This spa resort offers one of the finest views of Mt. Fuji, and it is a perfect destination for a 1-day trip from the Keio Plaza Hotel. It is also a place known for art and home to many museums. One of particular note was the first in Japan to specialize in Venetian glass, the Hakone Garasunomori Museum. On display are some one hundred fine works of glass. This May, porcelain works of the museum can be also enjoyed at the Keio Plaza Hotel.

Arts in the hotel

The Art and Culture of Japan Brought to You Here at the Keio Plaza Hotel

The Keio Plaza Hotel continues to organize a colorful variety of events that provide excellent introductions to Japanese culture. From traditional annual events to distinctive crafts and beyond, experience the best of Japan right here in the hotel. This spring and summer, the hotel will hold special events featuring Japanese lacquerware, ceramics, paintings, calligraphy and more. You are cordially invited to immerse yourself in Japan's history and beauty amid our public spaces.

May—Fragrance Vessels

Experience Japan's aesthetics in its traditional crafts.

May 1st through 31st

Our exhibition in May, "Aristocratic Art and the Pursuit of Beauty through Fragrance Vessels," is an admission-free opportunity to appreciate the exquisiteness of containers used to hold precious fragrances, both old and new. The exhibit will include lacquerware used in Japan's kohdoh (or "way of fragrance"), and gorgeous perfume bottles of Imari-yaki, a traditional school of porcelain. The event will be accompanied by special menus created by the chefs at nine of our restaurants, which are sure to tantalize both the eyes and the palate.

June—Mt. Fuji

Getting to know Japan's most iconic mountain

June 1st through 30th

This June, at "A mountain of Arts and Culture—Mt. Fuji Appreciation Fair," the hotel will exhibit ink-wash paintings, oil paintings, calligraphy, and other artworks both lavish and subtle that feature Japan's supreme mountain as a motif. Also on display will be a gigantic wall painting of the mountain. This type of work has long been a staple at senjo, or traditional bath houses, where citizens have gathered for centuries to socialize and relax.

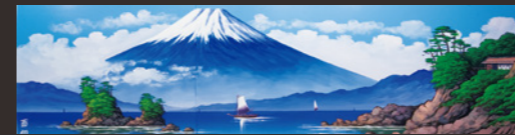

Limited time offer
The "Taste of Japan" special accommodation package will be offered from May 30th through July 5th.

July—Arita/Imari Porcelains

A celebration of 400 years of Japanese ceramics in 2016

July 1st through August 2nd

Representative of Japan's long tradition of porcelain art, the Imari and Arita schools boast four centuries of history. This year, the hotel will focus on works of these schools from the 18th and 19th centuries, whose precision and elegance enchanted numerous people of Western Europe at many expositions and thus gave rise to the "Japonism" aesthetic. The exhibition will showcase precious museum-owned pieces, and some renowned houses of pottery will also be displaying and selling their works. Rounding out the experience, number of hotel restaurants will offer special cuisine served in Arita tableware.

Also available for appreciation, free of charge, are some items from the Kyushu Ceramic Museum of Saga Prefecture.

Cylinder shaped large bottle with dragon ornament and peony, figures and birds (1860-1870s)

Large vase with a design of arbor in a landscape, flower and butterfly, overglaze polychrome enamels (1840-1860s)
